

Which class are you?	Yes I enjoy Forest School	Why do you think the benefits of Forest School are?	Why do you enjoy learning outside and how is it different to learning in the classroom?	Are the resources of good quality?	Have there been any memorable sessions you can think of?	Yes I feel safe when I am doing Forest School	What skills do you think Forest School helps you develop?	Do you have any other comments?
Hazel	More than 75%	Campfire - teaches you how to do it. Teaches you survival skills if you're lost in the woods. Always lots of fun because there are lots of activities. Always rules. We get free time and all the activities.	We learn about nature. There's more space to learn. You are around nature. It's full of nature and the classroom hardly has anything. Because you get fresh air and nature is a really beautiful thing. I work harder outside than I do inside- it helps me work. Outside we get to learn about animals, habitats and different leaves. You get to play fun games. It helps me concentrate because I get fresh air. I get to know what animals eat.	Yes - colouring, using things in nature like leaves, sticks and flowers, tic tac toe get to build things, you get to eat outside, wellies if we forget ours, made crowns.	tic tac toe, sardines, keeping the 3 pigs away from the big bad wolf, making crowns, looking at different animal bones, rock paper scissors, hiding nuts in the ground, when we put together guy fawkes's story, looking for different leaves.	More than 75%	identifying leaves, making things out of nature, how to make a den, survival skills, how to be safe climbing trees.	If you can't hear properly you might get lost if you can't hear the whistle and know the game has finished. Please can we have different cookies and snacks. Don't annoy bees and wasps.
Ash	More than 75%	We learn about not hurting nature and looking after the environment, we make stuff and learn about safety, it is good to go out and get fresh air, you can look after nature and you can learn about nature and what is and isn't harmful.	you can have more fun outside, you can see different stuff outside, you can see insects, sometimes when we are inside the classroom I like the writing.	yes	playing the games, we had marshmallows, we tried to find wildlife, we cleaned up the mountain of sticks with animal poop in and we used a wheelbarrow, when are parents joined us for the lesson.	50%-75%	knowing about nature, looking after our environment, we can look after our nature and if we found a worm we wouldn't touch it.	I like it because we play games and the games are fun. It was really fun when our parents joined in. I liked it because we roasted marshmallows.
Oak	More than 75%	Survival tips. Good time to work outside. Different activities to the classroom. Teaches you about the outside world. Learn about nature. Nice to do something different. Good for mental health. Teaches you how to live with nature.	On you feet. Fresh air. More free. Get to wonder.	Yes.	Made soup. Toilet paper to connect planets. Pancakes. Hot choc and marshmallows. Tarpaulin - carry someone - stretchers.	More than 75%	Survival skills. Risk taking. Teamwork. Cooking on open fire.	We love forest school!
Holly	More than 75%	Learn about the environment/nature. Learn whilst getting fresh air. How to survive in the wild. How to respect and have fun in nature.	You get fresh air. It's better than being in the classroom because it is fun. Not a normal thing to do.	Yes - Majority agree	When we made food around the campfire. We made tents out of natural materials. Made soup. and lots of other things. Looked at history (Guy Fawkes - Fireworks)	More than 75%	Searching for things Survival Bravery Crafting/building Problem solving Making food - Cooking	It's really fun. It's amazing to venture into the wild. Great teacher.
Birch	More than 75%	You can learn about animals and plants. You can build a shelter if you are in a forest. You can get outside and have fresh air.	You can get some fresh air. You can see the wildlife from a closer point of view. You can walk and don't need to sit down for the whole lesson.	75% said yes.	Learning about compasses. Making soup. Eating marshmallows and drinking hot chocolate.	More than 75%	Living and surviving in the wild. Building things. Teamwork.	Some children have asked if they could go on a trip for forest school. More lessons.